Dear Josh:

I had, of course, been aware that Bill Wiswesser died several months ago. In fact, I was supposed to go to the memorial service but the information came too late for me to reorganize my schedule. ↓↓

I had not been planning an essay about him but I would certainly be interested in collaborating with you on a discussion of his work, especially since it is related to Dendral. I am sure that Bonnie Lawlor and the Index Chemicus staff will help in whatever way they can. *

After you get this note, let's talk about this possibility.

Best wishes,

EG/MM

- Gene, I really did not know him personally; and am drowned in work needed to move. So I can't take any initiative.

Josh.
